DESCRIPTION

Owner is selling successful charter business along with boat and all fishing equipment. This fully restored 1972 Bertram 31 Flybridge is a classic deep-V fishing boat that has never been equaled in popularity with offshore anglers. Large enough for comfort and small enough for legendary maneuvering, this fisherman provides an affordable cruising alternative.

The widened flybridge features a forward helm station, a single helm seat, and a custom tuna tower. The tower is equipped with an upper station, molded helm seat, bimini top, and sensational sightlines. Fishing equipment includes a set of rocket launchers and a pair of Lee 28' double spreader outriggers. Below is a large, 115 square foot, cockpit with custom teak leaning post with rocket launchers, cushioned engine boxes, two large in-deck fish boxes, and a 50-gallon transom livewell. There's more than enough room to fish, relax, or celebrate a good day of fishing.

The cabin is bright with lots of natural light, Lexan windows, and teak & holly sole. An overhead panel provides access to the AC/DC panel. A Jabsco day head is located aft. For overnight trips and afternoon naps, there's a forward v-berth with under-berth storage.

Upgrades and modifications to stringers, decks, bulkheads, bottom, Lexan windows, and teak interior trim, flybridge, interior, and mechanical features have made her superior to original in many ways. The bottom has been modified to be a semi-tunnel design.
